That's the Latest Notion About the Old League.

DETROIT STILL ON DECK.

More Trouble Ahead for the Brotherhood League Clubs.

THE SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

A new and apparently authentic rumor is affoat that the old League will only have eight clubs. Mr. Day favors the notion The minor Leagues and Association are planning against the Brotherhood. Manager Hecker arrives and takes charge of the old local club.

NEW YORK, February 10 .- It can now be said that the National League will consist of eight clubs the coming season. President Day, of the New Yorks, has expressed the opinion that it would be foolish to go on with ten clubs, while President Byrne, of the Brooklyn Club, is sure that the League must come down to eight clubs.

The report that President Stearns, of the Detroit club, was after a League franchise has therefore more foundation than at first supposed. It is now said that Mr. Stearns had ompleted a deal whereby the Detroit and leveland clubs will be consolidated, and that one-half of the season's games will be played in The rumor was also backed up by the report which was first printed in THE DISPATCH weeks ago that the Washington and Indianapo-lis clubs were to be bought out by the League, and that the players of the two named clubs were to be assigned to the other eight clubs. It is also understood that Denny. Glasscock and Boyle will be among the players to come to this

If Cleveland and Detroit consolidate Washington and the Hoosiers must drop out, but no one knows who will get their players. Mr. Hewitt's price is high and so is that of Mr. Brush. They are both in the market, how-

SPALDING AND GUMBERT.

The Player Wants Very Good Terms to Play With Anson's Tenm.

It was learned yesterday that Ad Gumbert did really talk "business" to Mr. Spalding on Saturday evening. Mr. Spalding told Mr. Gumbert that he could only get $2,500 from the Chicago club for the approaching season. Mr. Gumbert then said that he had been offered $3,500 from the Brotherhood. Mr. ing couldn't think of giving such a salary.

"Why, in respect to Hutchinson, we couldn't go to extraordinary figures. We think as much of Hutchinson as Mr. Gumbert, and the for-mer signed with us for the same salary that he received last year."

mer signed with us for the same salary that he received last year."

"Now, what do you want to play ball?" said Mr. Spalding to Mr. Gumbert. "Is it $3,000, $3,500 or $4,000? Say the word."

Mr. Gumbert stated that if $3,500 was mentioued he would talk business. Mr. Spalding didn't talk business, but remarked to a friend that the demand was prepostrous.

Under present circumstances there can be no blame attached to Gumbert's trying to get all that he can. If reports are true some big salaries are being paid by the new League and Gumbert certainly has a right to ask a figure that the higging of the market will give.

In answer to a question from Gumbert, Mr. Spalding gave him to understand that he could not play with any other League club than Chicago except the latter gave its consent.

AGAINST THE BROTHERHOOD.

Lots of People Alming to Shut Out the Conspirators.

SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH). NEW YORK, February 10 .- For some time past the National agreement clubs hereabouts have been considering a plan whereby they could secure all of the best amateur clubs in this vicinity. In order to carry out such a plan with success a meeting was agreed upon this afternoon at the Sporting Times office. Among those who attended were representatives from the New York and Brooklyn League clubs, the Brooklyn Association club and the Jersey City and Newark clubs of the Atlantic Association. The idea is not only to arrange a series of spring games between themselves, but to secure games with all of the college and amateur clubs.
It is also to be agreed that a careful watch shall be kept on the Players' League clubs here-abouts, and that when they arrange a game the National League clubs will secure a club to play with them on the same day, so as to draw the crowd from the Players' League game as far as possible. What measures the Brother-hood will adopt to enable them to retaliate are not yet known.

TOMMY'S OPTION.

Burns Talks About the Lengue and the Brotherhood.

IMPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR.) NEW YORK, February 10.-Washington

Tommy Burns, who has covered third base for the Chicage League team with signal success for so many seasons, arrived in this city to-day. He was just too late to meet Captain Anson and other members of the Chicago Club, now en route to Fiorida. Burns says he is very well satisfied with the stand he took in favor of the Leagne.

The latter organization has demonstrated to the public that it is competent to conduct the national game on a satisfactory and businesslike way. He does not hesitate to say that he believes the Brotherhood will eventually wind up just as the Union Association did several years ago. The latter organization started out with an abundance of capital behind it, but the superior management of the League was soon apparent and the Union organization fell of its own weight.

During a conversation yesterday Secretary Scandrett said: "Some of our decided enemies are anxious to misrepresent things. Mr. Nimick stated that there is a way to prosecute Messra Rowe, White and Duniap. We have neests. those, white and Diniap. We have not, of course, decided on that course no more than we have on any other suit. But we have talked about it, and it is in the lawyers' hands. That's all I have said. I only wish we could be represented correctly by those who want to kill us without a trial.

SOMETHING LIKE BUSINESS.

Mr. Vandevelde Notifies Chief Brown That He Can be Here in About a Week-That Engine Test in Better Shape to Come Off -A Day About Set.

Chief Brown, of the Department of Pub lie Safety, still remains cool on the engine test question, noiwithstanding the heat of the political campaign. The engines, he says, will be tested without doubt, and he is still as confident that his Fire Bureau, with its resources, can whip its opponents as ever. He said the engine has been openly tried by the river side and answered every requirement, while he who ran the engine, as well as everybody else, could read the pressure gauges.

The following letter was received by Chief Brown yesterday, in explanation of the reason of the delay of Mr. Vandevelde in coming to Pittsburg to act as judge in the CLEVELAND, O., February 8, 1890.

O. Brown, Esq., Chief of Department of Public Safety, Pittsburg, Pa.: DEAR SIR-Mr. Vandevelde has shown me two telegrams that were sent to him at Omaha from you, the last one in which you say that you will wait for Mr. Vandevelde's pleasure to name the day, and would not under any circumstances, accept the resignation that Mr. Vandevelde sent.

Since Mr. Vandevelde was in Pittsburg he has been unusually pressed, and has a very important mission to New York and Hoston, for which he will leave Monday, and will probably be gone about a week. When he is strough that he will be at liberty to go to Pittsburg, and will arrange so that he can positively be in Pittsburg within the next ten days.

I write this letter, as Mr. Vandevelde is very sorry indeed that he has been unable to fulfill his mission that your people require, and to say that nothing short of duties of the most important character have been the cause of delay in that nothing short of duties of the most impor-tant character have been the cause of delay in his visiting Pittsburg, and trust that the delay has not been a serious drawback to your people. If there is anything important that you want to communicate to Mr. Vandeveide, if you will kindly address it to him, care Standard Gil Company's Leechburg oil works, I will arrange to see that he is advised so that he can com-municate with you if necessary.

Yours truly, John C. Compton, Superintendent.

A copy of the above letter was sent immediately upon its receipt to Superintendent Armstrong, of the Allegheny Water Works. Late last evening Chief Brown received telegram from Mr. Vandevolde saying that telegram from Mr. Vandevolde saying that he would be in Pittsburg by the middle of next week, and would notify the Chief two or three days ahead, so that the date of the test could be arranged without any further unnecessary delay.

THE BATTLE NOW ON.

Inauguration of the Debate on the New Rules in the House.

MORE CONTEST CASES COMING.

NOVEL IDEA OF AN OHIO REPUBLICAN.

He Wants Congress to Pass a Law Preventing Any

More Gerrymandering.

Then Legislation Will be Pushed With All Possible Speed.

The debate upon Reed's new rules in the House commenced yesterday. No fresh arguments were advanced on either side. Several more contest cases will come up this week, and after that the Republicans propose to rush legislation. Some members are in favor of an early adjournment.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. W ASHINGTON, February 10 .- The House to-day began its consideration of the new code of rules provided for it by the Republican majority of the Committee on Rules. The debate upon it was most uninteresting, and at no time were there more than three or four members listening to the speeches. The Republican speakers presented no arguments in favor of the adoption of the code that were not included in the majority report accompanying it, and the Democratic speakers simply reiterated the arguments used by them during the pendency of the Smith-Jackson election case when Mr. Reed first made his rulings and included in the minority report.

BUT LITTLE TIME ALLOWED. The Democrats are not to be allowed to consume so much time over this discussion as they had anticipated. They had been looking forward to about ten days' of debate, but the probabilities are that the vote upon adoption of the code will be taken on Wednesday evening. This is accounted for by the fact that the code is being discussed as a whole, and not section by section. This will necessarily shorten the time to be occu-pied by the debate, and Mr. McKinley thinks that three days will be ample in which to present the arguments pro and con.

As soon as the rules have been adopted the majority expect to push the business of the House rapidly to completion. They want, if possible, to secure an early adjournment, not only to cut off the massot indiscriminate legislation which has been proposed, but also for its political effect. To this end they intend to push forward all the more important matters to prominent places on the calen-dars, and dispose of them as rapidly as

PREFERRED BUSINESS.

The election cases, the tariff bill and the appropriation bills will be the first things in order after the rules are adopted. This is the executive week of the Committee on Elections, during which they will hold no hearings. There are several cases pending, and the committee proposes to dispose of as many of them as possible.

The first one to be taken up to-morrow will be the case of Atkinson vs Pendleton, of West Virginia. There will be a majority and a minority report in this case, the Re-publicans (avoring the seating of Atkinson. In the McGinnis vs Alderson case it is con-sidered quite probable that the committee will return a report favoring the contestee and allowing Mr. Alderson to keep his seat. These two cases may occupy the time of the committee for the whole week, but, if not, there are the cases of Mudd vs Compton, of Maryland, Pratt vs Posey, of Indiana, and Threet vs Clarke, of Alabama, all of which have been argued before the com-mittee and are ready to be considered. It is expected that if the rules are disposed of in the House by Wednesday evening that the Atkinson-Pendleton case will be taken up on Thursday, and probably the McGin-nis-Alderson case on Friday. THE TARIFF BILL. The Committee on Ways and Means is making rapid progress with the formation of the tariff bill, and expects to report it to the House within ten days. The work of the Committee on Appropriations is in an advanced state. The pension appropriation bill, which carries $98,000,000, is almost ready to be reported to the House and the other bills are well under way.

Altogether the present situation in the House, with the certainty of being able under the new rules to transact business more rapidly than has hitherto been possible, is very favorable to the realisation of the Republican hope that this will be a short seasion, thus giving thembers time to look after their re-election, and the Republicans opportunity to point out how much more expeditiously they can legislate than the Democrats can. LIGHTNER.

TO STOP GERRYMANDERING. An Ohlo Republican Representative Thinks the Districts Are Just Right.

PERSONAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR.1 WASHINGTON, February 10 .- Many are the plans of the Republicans to insure their control of the next Congress. To-day Representative Wickham, of Ohio, introduced a bill in the House intended to stop gerry-mandering. He evidently thinks that the present method of districting in Ohio should not be changed by the Democratic Legisla-

Another alleged Republican plan is for Congress to remain in session until the census enumeration is completed, and then reapportion the country upon that basis.

uniformed veterans and the women's auxiliaries. A cannon planted fairly and squarely on the top of a mountain back of the town booms out a salute of welcome of ten shots for every train that arrives on three railroads.

Everybody is anxious to see the Pittsburg train pull in, for Allegheny county veterans appear to have a reputation. All indications point to the greatest gathering of the Grand Army of the Republic Pennsylvania ever saw, and there is a feeling that it will be the high water mark, and that after this year encampments will begin to dwindle in size as death more frequently visits the various post rooms. Such a belief enhances the majesty of this week's spectacle. L. E. STOFIEL.

GENUINE BAPTISTS. Rev. Cramer Says They Caunot Commune With Sprinkled People-Another Whirl

at the Wheel in the Long Drawn-Out Ebenezer Church Case. The Ebenezer Baptist Church (colored) grind was on again yesterday afternoon be fore Commissioner A. H. Clark. There wasn't as much wrangling as usual between Messrs. Prescott and Broe on the one side and Mr. Young on the other as usual, but the interest of the ins and outs was as intense as on other occasions. There was but one witness examined. He is authority on Baptist doctrine and usage, and his testimony was not overly consolatory to the Rev. J. K. Cramer, of Elizabeth, stated that he was in the thirty-seventh year of his ministry, and thirty-fifth of his connection with the Baptist Association of Pittsburg. He explained the initiatory rites of admis-sion to the church. He said it claimed to be orthodox. Baptist churches are not independent in the full sense of the word. In all eases of a public nature a member accused must be served with written notice.

The Pittaburg Baptist Association is composed of delegates from the churches in this district, and can call offending churches to account and sister churches have the right to prefer charges to the association. A dis-fellowshiped church could not be considered a regular Baptist Church. The State association outranks the local association. The Ebenezer Church is not disfellow-shiped, but it is under a cloud. Regular Baptists hold that none but immersed people have a right to come to the communion. It the charges preferred against the Eben-ezer are substantiated, it will render the church non-Baptist. There is no power in a church to disfranchise a member because he asks for a council, as it is his right. On cross-examination the fact was brought out that it wasn't in good form for Tom, Dick and Harry to be sent as a mes-senger to inform a member that charges were preferred against him. A member of the church must be sent if possible, at least should be. Mr. Young now began a series of suppositions, and stated case after case, but Rev. Cramer uniformly answered that the suppositions didn't suppose, and an adjournment was taken. The "outs" declared that they rested, and the "ins" that they would have something more to offer, so by the time rebuttals and rejoinders and surrejoinders are all disposed of the case of the church will likely be settled in the ecclesiastical court, and that settlement may have an influence on the temporal power to which the appeal has been taken.
